

Your Demo Site Guide

A real, working mini-site was created just for you — this guide walks through what it is, how to explore it, and how to log in and make it your own (logo, colors, pricing, text, images) before you ever pay for anything.

1. What You Were Sent

The link in your demo email points to a real, live site running on the WashFoldClean platform, set up under its own web address just for you (something like yourbusiness.washfoldclean.com). It isn't a mockup or a set of screenshots — it's pre-loaded with sample services and pricing so you can click through it exactly the way one of your future customers would.

A second email follows shortly after with a sign-in link into your own admin dashboard for that same site. That's where the real exploring happens — everything from your logo and colors down to your prices and page text can be changed from there, with no coding involved.

2. Browsing Your Demo Site (Customer View)

- 1 Explore the menu — Check out “Pick Up & Delivery,” “How It Works,” “Pricing,” and “FAQ” at the top — this is exactly what your customers will see.
- 2 Try booking a comforter wash — WashFoldClean includes a dedicated comforter booking flow with its own sizing and pricing — not just a line item buried in a wash & fold list. Give it a try from the homepage.
- 3 Try booking wash & fold or wash-only — See how weight-based pricing, add-ons (like fabric softener or a hypoallergenic detergent), and scheduling windows work.
- 4 Stop before payment — Feel free to go all the way to checkout and stop there — no real charge will ever process on a demo site until a real Stripe account is connected.
- 5 Check the EN / ES toggle — Every WashFoldClean site is bilingual out of the box — try switching languages in the top bar.

3. Logging Into Your Admin Dashboard

Look for a separate email titled something like “Sign in to [Your Business] Admin.” Click the link — there's no password to remember, it signs you straight in. From there you land on your dashboard, scoped only to your own demo site.

New tenants land in Simple Mode by default — a condensed dashboard built for solo operators. A toggle in the header switches to Advanced Mode if you want the full toolset (multi-worker dispatch, facility routing, capacity limits) used by teams running a facility.

4. What You Can Set Up & Test Yourself

Section	What you can change
Branding	Business name, logo, primary & accent colors, tagline, support phone/email — changes apply instantly across the whole site.
Pricing	Comforter wash pricing by size, wash & fold per-pound rate, wash-only rate, subscription plan discounts.
Services & Add-ons	Turn detergent options, extras (like OxyClean or fabric softener), and accessories (laundry bags) on or off, and set their prices.
Site Text	Testimonials, promotional banners, and FAQ questions/answers — all editable, no code required.
Images	Swap out the photos used across your site's homepage and sections.
Service Areas	Which ZIP codes you serve, and the pickup/delivery messaging shown for each.
Sending Domain	Once you're live, send booking confirmations and receipts from your own email domain instead of a shared one.

Every change you make in the admin dashboard shows up immediately on your public demo site — so it's a genuine, safe space to test how your business would actually look and run before committing to anything.

5. A Note on Payments

Your demo site will not process real payments until you connect your own Stripe account (a simple, guided setup from your admin dashboard). Until then, checkout is safely disabled — so you and anyone you share the demo link with can browse and test freely with zero risk.
